VICTORIOUS AGAINST THE ENEMY

Americans in Several Instances Give Good Account of Themselves, Despite Great Odds, in Fighting on French Front

(By Associated Press)
With the American Army in France, Wednesday.—An American machine gun battalion accounted for approximately one thousand Germans while holding a bridge during the recent fighting at Chateau Thierry. The Americans lost only one man killed and a few wounded.

Washington, June 6.—The story of how an American patrol of forty men outnumbered by two to one, held its ground in Lorraine on the night of June 2, for three-quarters of an hour and only retired when its ammunition became exhausted, is told in the continuation of Gen. Pershing's command of yesterday received by the war department today. The patrol inflicted heavy losses upon the enemy. Between April 14 and May 31, Lieut. Douglass Campbell shot down six enemy planes.

Paris, June 6.—Germans crossed the river Oise yesterday but were driven back by the French. North of the Aisne the French improved their position near Hautefraye. There was heavy artillery fire near Veuilly-la-

Poterie where the American troops have been in action.

London, June 6.—The Germans last night repeated their attempts to raid the British positions in the Molin-court region east of Amiens, but were repulsed, the war office says.

$75,000 FIRE IN SOUTH BOSTON PLANT

(By Associated Press)
Boston, June 6.—Fire in a storehouse of the General Electric Co. in South Boston today did damage estimated at $75,000. Sparks started the fire in two other buildings but both were quickly extinguished. The cause of the fire was not determined.

Gas and electric light companies in New York have arranged insurance of $50,000,000 to cover damages from possible bombardment.

RECEIVE FIRST AIRSHIP MAIL IN PORTSMOUTH

First Letter From Postmaster at Washington to His Son at Navy Yard.

The first mail to reach this city via the airship route from Washington to New York, included four letters, three of which were addressed to Second Lieutenant O. M. M. Chance, United States Marine Corps, at the navy yard, and the other to Mrs. Ralph C. Dickey of Pleasant street. One of the letters to Lieut. Chance was from his father, M. O. Chance, the postmaster at Washington, and was no doubt one of the first letters to bear the air route stamp in the country. The other two came from his mother and aunt.

The fourth letter was from Congressman Ralph C. Dickey, serving in the Signal Corps at Washington and was addressed to Mrs. Dickey on Pleasant street. She received it about 9 a. m. the following day after it was mailed in Washington.

Batteries recharged at the Chambers Service Sta. Rear P. O.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, June 6.—A $16,000,000 appropriation for establishing balloon and sea-plane stations to guard the United States against submarine and air attacks, was asked of Congress today by the War Department. The department desires to establish sixteen stations on the Atlantic coast and three on the Gulf coast. The coast defense plan as submitted by the department also calls for the establishment of mobile fortifications along the coast by which guns can be transferred on railroads from one point to another in case of possible attacks.

SEC. DANIELS SPEAKS AT ANNAPOLIS

(By Associated Press)
Annapolis, Md., June 6.—By bringing the war to the doors of the United States through the submarine activity Germany has not frightened the American people but has intensified the fire of our passion, and has brought home to us the need of strength and more strength so that the enemy can be more quickly and more thoroughly be stripped of his arrogance, Secretary of the Navy Daniels told the graduating class of the United States Naval Academy at the annual commencement exercises held here today.

N. Y.—BOSTON AIR MAIL SERVICE

(By Associated Press)
New York, June 6.—Experimental airplane mail service between New York and Boston was inaugurated this afternoon when Lieutenant Webb, U. S. A., started on the initial flight from Belmont Park, L. I. The journey is expected to take less than four hours if the aviator is not obliged to land enroute.

CREW OF SUNKEN SHIP IS LANDED

(By Associated Press)
An Atlantic Port, June 6.—Captain Coulman and the crew of the schooner Edward H. Baird, bound from Jacksonville, to New York, sunk by a German submarine 18 miles off Cape Charles on Tuesday morning were landed here today.

INSTANTLY KILLED IN FREIGHT YARD

Workman Knocked From Coal Car and Run Over.

David Flynn, of Dover, an employee of the Pacific mills, was run over and instantly killed in the Boston & Maine railroad yard in that city on Wednesday. Flynn and another man, Peter Connolly, were at work on a freight car shoveling coal for the Pacific Mills Company. While they were at work, the shifter backed some cars down against the one in which Mr. Flynn and the other two men were at work. Mr. Flynn was thrown from the car where he was at work on to the track and five cars of the train passed over his body. He was dragged a distance of 59 feet before the train was stopped. His body was mangled in a terrible manner and presented a shocking sight to those who witnessed the accident. Mr. Connolly and the other man at work on the coal car with Mr. Flynn had a very narrow escape from sharing the same fate of Mr. Flynn. The body was covered with blankets until the undertaker arrived to remove the body. Measurements at the scene of the accident were taken by Assistant Marshal Murray and Officer McDonough.

Mr. Flynn is said to have been over seventy years of age.

NAVY YARD NOTES

No More Soft Snaps
Rear Admiral Spencer S. Wood, commanding the First Naval District, is out with a strong rebuke against those who are enlisting in the navy for "soft" non-hazardous jobs.

"Parents are writing about their sons, asking soft, non-hazardous positions for them," he said.

"The navy is no place for young men who seek only shore duty. The navy wants men of action. When a mother writes to me about her son seeking a position which is non-hazardous, I feel like writing to that mother more than I can. I think I know how many mothers feel about their sons, but no one must give way to mere sentiment."

On a Few Days' Leave.
Dr. F. M. Furlong of the yard dispensary is on a few days' leave during which he is visiting in New York.

Machinists and Helpers.
The latest call issued by the Industrial Department requires five machinists and two cooper-smith's helpers.

4630 Now Working.
The number of civilian yard employees has reached 4630.

Want Another Train.
The officials of the Industrial Department have made application to the Boston & Maine railroad for additional train service on the York Harbor and Beach system in order to get the workmen to their homes at an earlier hour. They request a train to leave the navy yard station at 4:45 p. m. At present the men who conclude their work at 4:30 are obliged to wait until 5:10 for a train home. The railroad has taken the matter up with the federal authorities. Nearly 200 men from the several stations on the branch are now engaged in government work.

Officers From Bureau Here
Comdr. Smead and his assistant, Lieut. Hubbard of the Bureau of Steam Engineering were at the yard Wednesday in conference with yard officials in matters pertaining to steam engineering material for ships.

ARE STILL HUNTING FOR SUBMARINES

Naval Vessels Extend Search Far South in Belief That U-Boats Are Seeking New Location For Operations

(By Associated Press)
Washington, June 6.—Efforts of the Navy Department to hunt down the German submarines have not lessened in the least today. Instead the search was being extended to more southern regions in the belief that the German craft hurried southward after sinking the Norwegian steamer Elisevold off the Virginia Capes on Tuesday, in the hope of finding a locality in which naval patrols were not so strong.

The location of the raiders off the Virginia coast leads some Navy Department officials to believe that the submarines may have taken up a location in that region in the path of trans-Atlantic traffic in the hope that they may secure as prize some large merchant vessel or perhaps a trans-

EVERY PRECAUTION IS NEEDED

Washington, June 5.—The submarine raid has demonstrated the inadequacy of the first precautions and preparations for just such an incident of war.

The navy had supposed that its patrol system, its plan of district survey, its air inspection and the rest of it insured the minimum of damage before discovery and pursuit.

Now it is demonstrated that German U-boats have been able to sink ships within 100 miles of the Jersey coast for a week or 10 days before any body on shore learned anything about it.

Will Keep Strict Watch

Naturally there will be no repetition of this. The additional precautions are in effect now and will not be relaxed.

It is really not remarkable that the Germans were able to sink the schooners and steamers and get away, despite the indications, now so plain, of their presence.

There has not been a week since we began sending troops to Europe that reports and submarines, on our side of the ocean, are circumstantial and apparently as authentic as those of last week, were not received. In every case these were investigated. Patrol boats have cruised thousands of miles because of a floating mine or a school of whales.

Circumstantial stories of gunfire, even to a report of a number of shots, brought in by ships have been run down to thunder storms and target practice of our own ships.

The navy department does not admit that constant repetition of these false alarms dulled the edge of their watchfulness, or made them less careful in their investigation of the reports that have been trickling in from all sources for the past fortnight.

Attack Was Expected

The navy folk realized that the submarines were certain to come, and they insist that they have been as thorough and alert as their facilities and the wide expanse of water to be covered permitted. There have been constant inspections to guard against a breakdown in the watch and reporting systems to keep the patrol up to the mark.

This fact remains that submarines began their operations, being from surface positions on May 26, and nothing was known to our sentinels until June 3.

RICH IN PITIFUL SHAPE IN RUSSIA

New York, June 6.—The distress, hopelessness and chaos which overwhelmed the well-to-do and official classes in the Russian Revolution are vividly portrayed from the standpoint of a Russian woman in a letter received by her father, a doctor in this country. The writer is a daughter of a Russian diplomat who was connected with the Russian Embassy in Washington about twenty years ago and a widow of an officer in the Russian army who was killed early in the war.

"Russia, crushed by exterior and interior enemies, justly despised and abandoned by the great countries that once trusted her, is ruined and disappearing," she wrote. "My country is ceasing to exist. It was bad enough before the March revolution, when our unhappy, half-witted Emperor, under the influence of his German wife, seemed to do everything possible to make people lose patience. We have a thousand anonymous pamphlets, the top lines paid by Germany, and the lower ones filled up with slanders about money, money and money."

The present government has abolished all laws, all courts, the police, land-ownership, all private real estate in towns, all distribution of estates and grades in the army and navy. They have seized all the banks, are opening all the private safes and confiscating all gold and silver found therein though it had never been said before that it was criminal to have it.

"Of course, everything they 'decree' is so mad that it is quite sure not to last forever, but the chaos they make will take centuries to forget. The country is going back to a savage state. And we will not live to wait for better times."

"All Russia is suffocating—every day brings new surprises that show that there is but one way out of it—the grave. On the ground of liberty they abolish all laws, judges, attorneys, and substitute for it 'people's courts of justice' with only soldiers, workmen or peasants, often quite illiterate and always without the slightest knowledge of court proceedings, taking the places of the former judiciary."

On the same ground they abolish all police, let loose all the criminals from the prisons, arm them, constituting from their number together with workmen, deserters and hoodlums, a red guard and fill the prisons to their utmost with all those who crave for order and will not work together with them towards the total ruin of the country.

On the pretense of equality they abolish all grades in the army and navy and make all posts elective by the simple soldiers. In most places it is understood as complete extermination, lynching of the officers, who, for being better educated, are under suspicion of being counter-revolutionary. The highest posts are occupied by elected soldiers who very often can hardly sign their names, and the former officers are made simple soldiers with a soldier's pay of $3.50 a month and ordered to the lowest tasks, cleaning of the barracks, cooking food, taking care of the horses.

Our great country could only exist when all the wheels of the Government were working in harmony. Now everything is a perfect chaos. Everybody was willing to throw over the Czarist government, but not in order to change it for this one, of looting, anarchy and treason toward our allies. Oh, the shame, the disgrace and the folly of it!

The army which now consists of young boys (the regular one is long since killed) without any sense of duty, morals and discipline, see their acquired "freedom" in the freedom to go home when they want to. And so all the trains, all the stations, are attacked and destroyed by this horde of savages, who kill engineers, if it comes to them the train goes to sleep, and mystify the railway agents, and then of the impossibility of their train for there is another one coming towards them in the same time. As this human flood goes home without any organization everything is looted and destroyed.

Some months ago I was believing myself to be quite well off. I have a house in Petrograd. Last spring I was offered $125,000 for it, but was advised not to sell and go over to America to have my little girl become a happy American school girl. Now I have on hand about $2,000 and no other resources; the house, like other private property, is being confiscated, the revenue going to the Government, that is to say to the private pockets of the usurpers. The government bonds—manipulated (repudiated) and even if I had not more money—believe me there is nothing to buy.

Petrograd will begin to die from hunger one of these days. And from hunger are the authors of it are sure to escape at the last moment abroad and live happily afterwards with the millions they will have robbed and leave the country to its dreadful fate.

Life in Petrograd is horrible—all the criminals, all the workmen and demoralized soldiers rob the few cars that still bring some kind of products. In the very heart of the city, in day-time, you have your clothes taken off your back literally. Just think that there is no police, nobody to call for help, for those who would like to help have had their firearms confiscated even the officers, even the highest generals. All the soldiers, etc., are armed and have become highwaymen. At any moment you can expect a number of them coming into your private lodging and, under the pretense of 'proquisition' take away all your money and valuables.

And as the government declares that in a real socialist state no crime against private property will be considered as such, for the biggest of all crimes is just the crime of private ownership, so you see there is nowhere to look for help.

Our money is not accepted anywhere abroad. Russia is bankrupt, so that it is impossible to escape. All my friends and relatives are in the same awful position. Everybody lives on their last money, even those who were quite rich. Their money was in government or private bonds, and as they are declared void, where will you get money from? My poor mind cannot grasp the whole thing, it is too great a madness. I hope yet I shall hear that my dear American friends are happy—I it is some relief to think that there are people not suffering what we have to.

My only chance to save my little girl away from here and go to the girl's life and my own would be to United States. If you can think of any way to bring this about please write to me at once. I would do any kind of work—and if I came to live there, it would be to have my little one escape from this madhouse. Here, if we do not die in the next months, we will be slaves, regular slaves, of our lowest classes. So you see that anything in free America would surely be a thousand times better than what we must expect here.

MUST HAVE RED CROSS UNIFORM PERMIT

Harvey D. Gibson, general manager of the American Red Cross, Tuesday made the following statement in regard to Red Cross uniforms, which will be found of interest to all women workers:

A new pamphlet on uniforms for women workers for the American Red Cross in the United States has recently been issued to all divisions. In this pamphlet you will see that it has been made obligatory for all workers wearing Red Cross uniforms, to take the oath of allegiance and receive a uniform permit. It is left to the discretion of the division manager whether this rule shall be retroactive or not. In any case all firms making Red Cross uniforms should be notified to take orders for these uniforms only on receipt of a duly authorized uniform permit. This permit is now in stock at all national headquarters under the number of Form 392, and will be issued to divisions on requisition. Divisions should see that chapters are supplied with these permits.

Uniform permits for all women authorized to wear uniforms in Red Cross chapters shall be signed by the chairman of the chapter, or in case of large chapters by a special committee of the chapter, with sub-committee on each service if this is deemed necessary. Uniform permits for women authorized to wear uniforms in divisions should be signed by the manager of the division. Uniform permits for women (with the exception of nurses, nurses' aids and dietitians) going overseas for foreign service with the Red Cross may be signed by Miss Martha J. Draper, associate director of Bureau of Personnel. Uniform permits for women authorized to wear uniforms at national headquarters will be signed by general manager or by Miss Elizabeth S. Hoyt, assistant to the general manager.

(Signed)

H. D. Gibson, General Manager.

BIG CALL MADE FOR THIS MONTH

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, June 5.—While the youths who have just reached 21 years of age were registering today, orders went out from the Provost Marshal General's office calling to the colors from June 24 to 25, 200,000 men in addition to the 40,000 recruits that have been called.

The call is from twenty states and this will make a total of 1,595,504 selective service men called in the year and in camps and in France there are now about two million men.

The result of the registration of Wednesday will not be known until tomorrow. It is estimated that one million men will be registered as a result of reaching the age and that here after registrations will be held every three months.

The quota includes Massachusetts 100,000; Camp Devens, 4000 to Camp Devens, Maine 2500 to Camp Devens.

TELEGRAPH NEWS

Washington, June 6.—Enactment of the espionage act, just become operative, under which stringent action may be taken against disloyalty or sedition, adds the United States to a long list of nations which have been forced by German propaganda or by the total disaffection to invoke the extreme powers of law for their existence.

Short thrift is made of persons in Great Britain, France, Italy and the other allied countries who attempt to foment revolution or betray the state to the enemy. Great Britain's colonies under their system of self-government have followed the example of their mother country in fighting disloyalty, recognizing that the liberties of the world depend on victory in the present war.

Amendments to the War Precautions Regulations of Australia, received in official dispatches today, show the far-reaching steps taken by that Commonwealth against sedition. The Sinn Féin organization is outlawed by name and drastic powers are given to the Minister of Defence to close clubs or places of resort of the Sinn Féin or other disaffected societies. The regulations said in part:

"Any person who, by word of mouth or in writing, or by any act or deed (a) advocates, incites or encourages disloyalty or hostility to the British Empire, or to the cause of the British Empire in the present war; or (b) advocates the dismemberment of the British Empire, or who says, or does, anything calculated to incite, encourage or assist such disloyalty or hostility, shall be guilty of an offence against the act."

"The Minister may direct that any premises used as a place of public resort, or as a club the use of which in his opinion, is prejudicial to the safety or the defence of the Commonwealth, shall be kept closed."

"Any person who wears or displays any badge, flag, banner, emblem or symbol, of a country with which the King is now at war, or any body or association who are disaffected to the British Empire, or of the society, association or movement known as Sinn Féin, shall be guilty of an offence against the act."

"Any officer of police and any police thereto authorized in writing by the Minister may, for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this regulation enter, if need be by force, and search and occupy any premises in relation to which a direction has been given under this regulation."

New York, June 5.—The German people are being warned that they must prepare for another winter of war. In announcing that this was probable, Conrad Haussmann, a progressive member of the German Reichstag said in a speech at Stuttgart as reported by the Berlin Tageblatt, that it is necessary to give the warning to prevent public disappointment. Germany he said saw through the desire of the Russian Upper House to rule the empire. Never he added, will salvation come from these super-Prussians. The Prussian Upper House was aiming to storm against Kuehlmann (Foreign Minister) and the imperial government. Kuehlmann had fallen into the bad graces of the supermen. He was exposed to a concentrated attack of those who considered negotiations during which one pounds the table at the most salutary.

Paris, June 6.—Joseph Caillaux, the former Premier of France whose conduct is being investigated by a committee to learn whether a charge of treason shall be made against him, surprised his investigators by the coolness with which he met all charges. When he left the chamber after session before the committee he gave another evidence of his sangfroid. Not a eye was to be found.

"Sapristi," cried M. Caillaux as he looked in vain for a friendly cab-driver. Then an idea struck him, and he approached a motor car containing police detectives.

Is it you who are shadowing me? he asked.

Yes, monsieur, said one of the detectives, surprised.

Very well, then, said Caillaux, take me home, and he entered their car.

ALLIES HOLD STRONG AS A STONEWALL

(By Associated Press.)
The Allies stonewall defense of resistance is still holding the Germans from Solissons to Chateau Thierry. The fury of the invaders' attack continues as they are launching great assaults all along the line. Large masses of troops and artillery are being used and they are all being thrown back by the French and in some cases the allies have taken the initiative and have made some gains.

Standing out in sharp contrast to the usual German official announcement is the latest from Berlin on Wednesday night that the situation of the allies battlefront continues unchanged.

Germany is suffering great casualties. They have not made any further attempts along the Marne, but a great artillery fire is being maintained about Rheims, which possibly may shadow an infantry assault upon this much battered city.

Americans in the Lunenburg sector daily are showing the kind of metal they were made of. On Wednesday an American patrol of thirty men entered the German trenches and penetrated the third line, where they gave battle to the 200 men there and inflicted heavy casualties.

The Germans seemly fear the hand of American fighters in this sector for they have repeatedly shelled the American trenches, using a large number of gas shells.

There has been no resumption of the fighting on the Flanders and Picardy fronts held by the British, but there has been a violent bombardment of the British position in front of Amiens. The Germans attempted an assault on Moulmoult but they were repulsed, the British taking prisoners. Near Lens they were also repulsed by the British and prisoners taken.

Unofficial reports are that the Russians have defeated the Turks near Kars and that the Turks have fled after killing most of the population.

TWO MORE SHIPS SUNK BY U-BOATS

(By Associated Press.)
New York, June 5.—Two more vessels, a Norwegian steamer and a schooner were added to the list of ships known to have been sunk by the German submarines that have been making raids in the American waters.

This places the total at 17 five steamers and 3 schooners. The fact that stuck out today as the most prominent is that the U-boats are still operating in American waters and that they have not returned to their base, assuming that there are no reason to believe that there are more than two. This was demonstrated by the sinking of the Norwegian steamship Eldavald, which was sunk off the Virginia capes and the location of the ## War Thrift There Must Be.

One of the most prominent mercantile men of the country recently made a statement regarding the necessity of dispensing with luxuries during the period of the war in order that capital and labor can be devoted to the production of actual necessities—the necessities of war and the necessities of peace. The main points of this man's argument have already been set forth and commented upon in this paper, and since that time President Wilson has addressed to the country a statement of exactly the same import. Thus the attention of the people has twice been forcibly called to the need of thrift until conditions are different from what they are now. They are asked to forego many things which in ordinary times have been regarded as necessities, but which they can very well get along without until conditions change if they will only think so.

The fact is emphasized that if this program of self-denial is to prove effective it must be practiced by the rich as well as by the poor, and it is to be believed that the majority of the people will see the propriety of the admonition and govern themselves accordingly. But, unfortunately, there are many whose motto is "Self First" instead of "Safety First," and to guard against the selfishness or indifference of this class the government has decided that what may be called, by way of distinction, non-essential industries must be the first to suffer if there is to be suffering because of the lack of coal or capital.

The war industries must be supplied with coal, and, if there is not enough for all, the manufacture of luxuries will have to be curtailed. Already there have been considerable curtailments along certain lines and there may have to be more. It remains for the manufacturers and the people to do their best to meet the situation by the practice of reasonable self-denial. Instead of spending money for luxuries at this time it will be better to place it in the hands of the government for use in the prosecution of the war, and there is something lacking in the patriotism of those who are unwilling to do this, whether they be rich or poor.

This war is a costly affair and if it is to be won—as it is—there must be hearty co-operation among the people in helping to finance it, and in no way can the masses lend such assistance as will result from the practice of thrift and the avoidance of every expenditure that is not absolutely necessary, and placing the money thus saved at the disposal of the government. It will be far better to curtail voluntarily than to have curtailment forced by the necessities of the situation, as it certainly will be in the absence of voluntary action.

The firemen's memorial service next Sunday should be of interest to the people of the city as well as to the members of the companies that do such valiant service from year's end to year's end in the protection of life and property. There will be good speaking and good music, and nothing will be lacking to make the occasion what it should be.

It is soon going to cost more to ride on the railroads. The government as a railroad manager finds that it needs the money, and the increases that have been so peremptorily denied to the companies must be forthcoming. But what will the kickers say who have been clamoring for the government to "take over" the railroads?

The laws that have been passed by a number of states compelling all able-bodied men between certain ages to work does not apply to men not working because of differences with their employers. What would happen if those to whom it does apply should organize and strike, and thus find "asylum" under that clause?

It is said in Washington that the Red Cross knitters are exhausting the wool supply and that there may have to be some curtailment of their activities. This means that it may be possible that some of the knitters may have to cease taking their work to church.

In the interest of food conservation the growers will probably soon be shouting, "Eat more strawberries!" And the people will respond if they can get the "where-withal" and the Food Administration will allow the requisite amount of sugar.

In Alabama a number of draft evaders recently armed themselves, took refuge in a cave and defied arrest. They should be unearthed without delay and compelled to seek such shelter as can be found in the first-line trenches.

The railroad men have been warned not to strike, and they probably will not. Of late years it has seemed to be only necessary for them to name their terms, pocket the increases and keep right on at work.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

OURS WERE THERE

(From the Baltimore American)

Cantigny may be a small place, but it is going to occupy a very large place in the future history maps.

TO DOUBT WOULD BE DISLOYALTY

(From the Cincinnati Times-Star)

These are days when to be an American one must have a stout heart.

WHY, THEY'RE EVEN ALLIES!

(From the Brooklyn Eagle)

At last there's an airplane mail service between Paris and London. The Channel, tunnel, is sure to come later. France and England have torpedoed their old animosities and get closer together as the months pass by.

SAINTS TO FIGHT THE KAISER

(From the Cincinnati Times-Star)

The ancient prayer that "The saints may preserve us," has come to have a new meaning in Colorado. Witness the names found among the enlisted men from this State:

Arthur G. St. James, Denver.

Edward St. John, Pueblo.

Otis St. John, Rocky Ford.

Howard J. St. Peter, Denver.

George W. St. Matthew, Elyria, Colo.

Each fighting saint is the owner of a Liberty Bond.

AMERICA WILL FIGHT IT OUT

(From the New York World)

What we have we shall watch. Where we fight we shall win. We did not enter the war expecting to remain immune to suffer and sacrifice, and to us the game of bluff is old. Whatever havoc the Triple Alliance can contrive, the ships shall go, the guns and stores shall reach their haven, the lines shall be mended.

And the Navy is big enough and strong enough to protect our shores without withdrawing ships from useful service on the other side. There is no occasion for panic. By land and sea America will fight it out.

NEW KIND OF LANDLORD

(From the New York World)

Not all landlords are "reluctantly compelled" to increase rents by from ten to thirty per cent. The city and suburban Homes Company, which houses fifteen thousand wage-earners, finds a four per cent average increase ample to cover the higher cost of labor and material and meet dividend requirements; it has even been able to increase its depreciation reserve. This company had previously shown its lack of the profiteering spirit by allowing tenants a rent rebate for their few homeless days last winter.

This fair dealing contrasts with the practices of landlords who extract from tenants "what they can get instead of what they need," as President Allen Robinson says. They might profitably consider also its other different methods, such as the maintenance of a sinking fund providing for the renewal of buildings. As for ethical principles, the references of the company's president to the duty of the landlord to his tenant and to "service amounting to paternalism" are calculated to make ailing landlords rub their eyes.

But, certainly the trend of public opinion is toward a fuller recognition of the position of trust occupied by the landlord. It is the part of wisdom for owners and agents to adapt themselves to the changing conditions.

EASING UP ON SATAN

(From the Buffalo Express)

The day of the rumpo turtle and the lounge lizard and the stealer and the tout and the runner and the habitual gambler and the saloon licker and all the rest of those who may generally be classed as human parasites—that is, those who are living off others without making some fair return—is over; that is, it is over legally. For one must either work or fight now. So says the law. And everywhere in this State it is recorded that the authorities have begun the job of rounding up the worthless citizen, be he rich or be he poor, and seeing to it that he either goes to work or goes to war or goes to jail.

It is solemnly recorded that in New York the police have found one hundred forty years old who has never done a day's work in his life and who is scurrying around trying to find someone who will give him a job as an office boy. We can believe part of that story, all of it, indeed, except that parts which limit the number to one. If the police of New York have found only one man of that stripe then we are inclined to think they are scrapping the job.

Some of the unfortunates who fall within the meaning of this latest war measure might under other conditions have made it embarrassing for the State by demanding that they be shown the job. They might easily have protested that they had tried to find work and had failed. But this time the State has got it on them and it says, "If you can't find a job we'll find it for you." Oh, yes; there is work in plenty. But that does not entirely solve the problem of putting the idle men at work.

AS TO 1918 RATIONS

(From the Baltimore American)

As to foods, it may fairly be said that the 1918 harvests are now coming to market in a largeness of delivery that should put out of the argument any theory that the country is on the ragged edge of famine. Potatoes, beans, peas, onions and a dozen other garden products are reaching Baltimore from an other city communities from a Southern zone that is more than 200 miles wide and which stretches from Georgia to California. Even as to the bread grains, new wheat begins to flow to the mills about the last of June, before the 4th of July it will be coming strong. Strawberries are in abundant supply in the Baltimore market, and new potatoes and new onions are in hot competition with surplus stocks from 1917.

The spring poultry yield is not yet coming with a rush. The broiler ranches are making deliveries at the customary Maytime range of prices, or rather, at a marked-up schedule of prices. The near-by farm deliveries of poultry should soon be in swing. Even peaches have been coming to market from way down in Florida, or way down in Texas, or from way down somewhere else. The prospect, as at present, is for an abundant food yield. There is no apparent reason for a further advance in the retail price of foods—not if the supply has anything to do with the regulation of prices. A large grain yield and plenty of grass, poultry, out into poultry, eggs, butter, milk, cotton, cheese and other things.

STARS AND STRIPES AT CANTIGNY

(From the Chicago Evening Post)

Santigny will live in the annals of the American Army as Langemarek live in those of the Canadians. Cantigny has tested and demonstrated the spirit and fitness of our men as no other incident on the fighting front since first Old Glory crossed the line of neutrality.

Both artillery and infantry have won for themselves distinction. The big guns did their work of preparation magnificently; the men with bayonets and grenades proved themselves adept with both. The hard test came when the objective had been gained. Holding immediately after occupation is more difficult than capture, because it means facing the enemy, strengthened by his support troops, in positions your own fire had to destroy in order to win them.

But the Yanks held against all attack after another, and in the face of terrific bombardment. The desperate and repeated efforts of the enemy to regain the heap of ruins show that he values the position, but they show even more clearly that he smarts under the defeat administered by the "raw Americans."

In the beginning the Germans cherished themselves with the belief that America would not attempt to send an army to France. When this illusion was dispelled they told each other that we would not be able to get any army overseas. Now that we have proved we can beat the U-boats, they are saying: "These Americans will not be able to stand up against our veteran troops."

This last consolation vanishes with the episode of Cantigny. It is the veteran things who cannot stand up against these Americans—and thank God for that, because we have enough more-like them to repeat what happened at Cantigny until France and Belgium are free and the Kaiser surrenders.

Southern California produces 87 per cent of all the lima beans grown upon the face of the earth. The only other place where limas are extensively grown is on the island of Madagascar.

His Excellency Governor Keyes has dispatched by mail and telephone the White House wool and the high bidder was our esteemed fellow citizen and well-known wool merchant, Uncle Eli Noone, of Peterborough.

The Governor stipulated that the bid of Mr. Noone was $500 a pound, or $1200 for the consignment, and the money goes to the American Red Cross and war fund, to which New Hampshire has already contributed well over $500,000 on a quota of $300,000.

Mr. Noone was tickled to get the wool.

"Yes, sir, I just needed that wool and I figure the boys over there can use that $1200," said the farmer Councilor. "I am in the wool business and lately I have been short of wool."

Red Cross headquarters received the wool from President and Mrs. Wilson and it was shipped from the sheep that have been grazing on the White House lawn all spring. The name of the successful bidder was telegraphed to the White House and in due season the former candidate for governor will get a letter from the President and Mrs. Wilson acknowledging the sale.

"Uncle Eli" has not stated as yet what he will do with the wool, but it is said that if he gets the Democratic nomination for Senator this fall he will have that wool made into "one of them togas" that senators wear out at Washington.

And Spain, Too

Although neutral Spain may not be in the war, the Spaniards are certainly in it. The French have been perfectly well aware that hundreds of Spaniards joined the Foreign Legion at the beginning of the war; so that Paris was not taken the least by surprise when 800 Spanish soldiers paraded in French uniform to receive decorations for valor. The Spanish colony patriotically welcomed them with fiery speeches, while the French loaded them with medals. Three received the reward of the Legion of Honor, and scores the Croix Millaire and the Croix de Guerre. Since, from a strictly legal point of view, the Spanish legionnaires have imperiled their nation's neutrality, it will be interesting to know what Berlin will have to say about it; or rather about the 60 shillings of Spanish ships and the 60 profits made by Spain, which "friendly" Germany has consistently ignored.—Christian Science Monitor.

Siam Studies Philippine Health.

The Philippine model sanitary house which has aroused so much interest not only among Filipinos but also among residents of neighboring countries, has been adopted by Siam, and contractors located at Bangkok, having secured instructions from the Philippine health service, have begun the construction of a number there. The Siamese are keenly alive to the importance of promoting public health, and inasmuch as the health problems of Siam are very similar to those of the Philippines owing to climate and products, delegations of Siamese have arrived from time to time in Manila for the purpose of studying Philippine methods, one of them last year, being headed by his Royal Highness Prince Rangsit, brother of the king of Siam.

Privation in France.

The bread ration of the French soldiers has been cut from 25 ounces to 21 ounces, the civilian bread card allows 10 ounces per day, which is about one-third of the average bread consumption of the French peasant or workman. The manufacture of crackers and pastry has been absolutely prohibited. Consumption of sugar has been reduced 40 per cent and of rice 61 per cent. The import of dried vegetables has been reduced 52 per cent and of fats 48 per cent.

SURELY NOT CONCORD.

There may be still a few places in New Hampshire where it would be well to set off a bomb in order to wake up the inhabitants to the fact that war exists. But Concord is not one of them. The man who sent a bomb there by parcel post must have been misinformed.—Concord Monitor.

A soldier giving his name as Rodney Patton started some excitement on Vaughan street one Wednesday where he is said to have taken a punch at some boys. He was arrested by Special Officer O'Leary and told the police he got his booze from a friend passing through on a train to Portland. He was turned over to the army authorities at Fort Constitution today.

A will that was last when an overcoat was stolen several years ago, preserved by the thief and returned by him, was declared genuine by Judge J. J. Trimble in the Pittsburg Probate Court.

Serving as Justice of the peace 15 years without ever having tried a case is the remarkable record of Milton Todd of Burrill, Ill.

SHIPS ARE CONVOYED FROM BOSTON

Boston, June 5.—Official notification of the reopening of the port of Boston to shipping was issued yesterday afternoon, and steamship companies and vessel owners were so advised by the Naval authorities, and the Maritime Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. The port will be open from 6 a. m. to 8 p. m., but until further notice no vessel will be permitted to enter or leave port between 8 p. m. and 4.30 or 6 a. m.

Commander of vessels destined for points south of New York will receive their instructions from the commander of the 1st Naval District in the Little Building. The captains of vessels in the overseas trade will get their instructions at the same office.

For vessels sailing coastwise and as far east as New York the captains will receive their routing instructions from the Naval Station commander at Commodore's Pier.

Slow vessels and tugs with tows through the canal will be convoyed, and those passing outside will be under convoy when passing to the entrance of the harbor. Down East vessels with the pull as far as possible will keep in touch with all vessels entering and leaving harbors.

Steamers of 16 knots and over coming through the canal will not require any convoy. When a vessel desires to sail for any other than a coastwise port the section commander will report to the commander 1st Naval District, the name of the vessel, nationality, when she desires to sail and for what port, and sailing orders will be given by the commandant.

A fleet of steamers, tug and barges reached the harbor yesterday. Several of the vessels passed through the area of submarine activities.

EXTENDS LIST OF ENEMIES

Washington, June 5.—President Wilson today extended the list of enemies of the United States under powers of the Trading With the Enemy Act to take in a number of classes that heretofore have not come within operation of the law. Under his proclamation the following are designated as enemies:

Any woman residing outside of the United States, who is a citizen of an enemy nation or whose husband is an officer or agent of an enemy nation or who is carrying on business activities with enemy nations.

All persons whom the Allied nations at war with the Central Powers have found it necessary to intern or hold as prisoners of war.

All persons, citizens of enemy countries, who have assisted in the dissemination of German propaganda or in plotting or intriguing against the United States or the Government of any of the allied nations.

Any individuals, citizens of neutral countries, whom the War Trade Board may hereafter formally name on the enemy trading list.

All citizens of enemy countries, no matter whether they so reside now, who have resided within the territory of enemy Powers since Aug. 4, 1914.

The proclamation requires officers of corporations and trustees within the United States to furnish, within thirty days, to the alien property custodian a list of whatever holdings there are of whose ownership includes individuals within the newly classified list of enemies. Debtors to persons now named enemies also are required to furnish statements to the custodian.

HI NOONE BUYS WOOL FOR $600 A POUND

(By Robert A. Pittsburg)

Bas, lan, black sheep, have you any wool? Yes, sir, yes, sir, Two pounds full, Wool in the morning And wool at night, Two pounds for Eli Noone, He's all right.

SMUGGLED CZAR'S JEWELS INTO U. S.

New York, June 5.—A plot to smuggle into America the crown jewels of the deposed Russian dynasty, stones valued at $200,000, is believed to have been discovered by United States customs officials.

Two United States officials are under suspicion, it is announced. One is in Russia and the other arrived at an Atlantic port recently on a Danish steamer, hurried "to Washington on official business" and is now missing.

Two passengers on the vessel, Vladimir Jugelen and Montellier G. Kulu, were arranged before a United States commissioner in Hoboken, N. J., today for alleged complicity and were held in $10,000 bail each for examination tomorrow.

Federal agents are said to have located $150,000 worth of the jewels and to be on the trail of the others.

YOUNG MEN REGISTER FOR WAR SERVICE

172 From This District, of Whom
143 are Natives--- No Enemy
Aliens Registered

A total of 172 young men who have reached the age of twenty-one since June 6, 1917, answered the call of their country, and were registered in the selective service in this district on Wednesday.

These young men came from all parts of this district which includes Portsmouth, New Castle, Rye, North Hampton, Seabrook, Kingston, Falls, Kensington, Greenland, Newmarket, Hampton, Newton, Hampton Falls and Newington. The registration was all at the office of the Local District Board in the Court House, the members of the board, Messrs. Spencey and Marvin, with the clerk Mrs. Laid registered the men as they appeared, the office being open from nine in the morning to nine o'clock last evening.

The registration shows a fine looking crowd of young men, the greater part of them who look as though they would be physically fit for any argument. The registration was practically the same as last year only a few changes being made in the form. The registrants were not given numbers, as these will not be given until they get their questionnaires and are classified and get their call number from the drawing that will be held in Washington later.

Out of the 172 men registered, there were 112 white citizens of native stock, 5 declarants and 23 aliens, and no negroes. The declarants and aliens were all from countries friendly with the United States and there were no aliens registered who are natives of any country at war with this country.

The registration fell a little below what was expected, the board having estimated that there would be at least 200 who would have reached the age of 21. This estimate was based upon the number that had been registered a year ago on the basis of ten per cent.

The men who registered yesterday will not be called or inducted into service until after the drawing to be held in Washington and then they will take their place at the foot of class one.

O'Hare, Nashua; messenger, Frank Abbe, Manchester; pages, Joseph H. Lane, Concord; Walter Pillsbury, Derry; stenographers, Margaret Conway, Concord; Jessie Goodwin, Newport.

Chairman William D. Kinney of the committee on credentials reported 426 delegates present and announced that William A. Lee, the "father" of the convention, had been elected to succeed the late Edwin J. Hill of Concord and Everett Kirtland of Bedford to succeed Frank J. Pausie, resigned. Mr. Kinney also recommended that Horace P. Hoyt and Frank A. Updike of Hanover and Albin Kahler and Theodosius S. Tyng of Ashland, tied in the election all be seated, each to have a half vote. This was done by the convention.

This morning the drawing for seats took place and on a resolution introduced by Col. James E. French of Monticello, which was adopted, fixed the hours for meeting at 10 in the morning and 2 in the afternoon.

President Brown named a sub-committee on rules: Gibson of Conway, chairman; Sherman of Claremont, George of Concord, Weston of Derry, Wesley of Dover, Childs of Henniker, Mason of Keene, Chase of Manchester, Hogan of Manchester, Pike of Lisbon, Pillsbury of Manchester, Westcott of Rochester, Thomas of Strafford, Whitcomb of Stratham, Stoddard of Portsmouth, Dickinson of Winchester, Paul of Claremont, Lombard of Colebrook, Hubbard of Nashua, Young of Laconia.

Quimby of Concord was appointed chairman of the committee to bring in a list of the attaches of the convention. With him on the committee were Livingston of Manchester, Entwistle of Portsmouth, Cobleigh of Nashua, Perkins of Andover, Hatching of Strafford, Sherry of Dover, Nye of Farmington, Philbrook of Laconia, McNally of Rollinsford, Welman of Keene, Hall of Washington, Connor of Manchester, Sanders of Derry, Perley of Enfield, Butler of Haverhill, Hildebrand of Rochester, Bend of Hooksett, Thompson of Concord and Roy of Somersworth.

CONVENTION OF CO. W. C. T. U. OPENS HERE

Addresses of Welcome Given by Judge Adams and Miss Lizzie D. Tripp.

The quarterly convention of the Rockingham County W. C. T. U. is being held today at the Universalist church and opened this morning at 10:15 o'clock with devotional exercises by Mrs. Mabel Brown, followed by greetings by Miss Lizzie D. Tripp, secretary of the local union, and Judge Edward H. Adams, who spoke in part as follows:

"I am here by invitation, but not in any official capacity, and shall speak briefly, but I am in sympathy with the organization you represent and am in sympathy with the great temperance movement that is sweeping over the land. I am in sympathy with the right enforcement of the prohibitory law so earnestly demanded by the land and the country. Men are not great by the exercise of arbitrary powers over weaker men. They are great when united in a common bond of helpfulness to all men in the exercise of civil rights, temperance, education and religion. Men are not great by the conquest of territory but by the conquest of mankind. The greatest men are those who think the greatest humane thoughts and apply to government, commerce, civilization, those mighty principles of the New Testament which came to earth not by observation and force but by law.

The power of men is not in the heel, but in the heart. We are living in a period of war, the most eventful and the most awful in the history of mankind. Our country has taken her place in this great conflict. The men and women of yesterday whose horizon was bounded by their own names and their own homes, have instantly become heroes of suffering and of service and of patriotism. Those who yesterday were counting their year's gains to themselves are raising food crops, making equipment for soldier and sailor, sewing, knitting with tireless fingers, making bandages, hospital dressings, giving to the Y. M. C. A., the Red Cross, the Salvation Army and all eagerly helping. What more can I do? Our sons are over there. They are in every place where the enemy are. They are fighting for the cause of humanity that humanity may not be driven from the earth by inhumanity. We are living in hopes of a victory. Wealth, suffering, misery, devastation will be the cost, but the victory of a righteous peace will make all mankind satisfied. It will be a glorious climax to centuries of struggle. If it overthrows thrones and establishes upon the earth the rights of the common people it will be the achievement of the ages. If it breaks down the barriers of division between the churches in the great family of God, making them a unit against evil instead of battling against each other, then will the prayer of the Master be fulfilled: 'That they all may be made one.'

"If this awful conflict shall inspire the youth of the world to live for high principles and high ideals instead of pleasure; to live for noble endeavor instead of ease; for righteousness instead of ruin, for the heroic service of others instead of self, then the young manhood of the nation will find its true self and will come forth from the great conflict without the stain of evil upon its garments. Already we are seeing evidences of great accomplishment for good. The Almighty is using the grasp of the war to serve Him. God is not the author of this war. He makes it serve a purpose for beyond the ambition and relentless passion of the men who cause it. He arrests the onward rush of men in their selfish indifference and wickedness by the most gigantic sacrifice possible to mankind. We are coming more thoughtful for the sake of others. We have been accused of being a money-loving people. We have overlooked our neighbors' needs in our accumulation of material gain. So long as we amassed our gain and gratified our senses respectably, what was the rest of the world to us? We gave no thought to shortening our own tables or denying ourselves a luxury. We grumbled at paying our ordinary taxes for the government of the city and the state. How far this would have gone it is hard to tell. That it was degeneration is plain enough now. Nothing in the ordinary processes could have separated us from selfish and evil habits and practices nor awakened us to a higher meaning of life. But we are fast finding ourselves and are becoming enriched and redeemed and glorious in the service of others.

"What a great privilege to live in this supreme crisis of all history to help prepare for the universal reign of righteousness among all kindred tribes and tongues. After this great conflict there will be universal establishment of principle. Already hearts are burning anew with the vital importance of eternal truths and with the earnest hope of evil overthrow. God is still in the world. His ways are just and righteous altogether. Out from this crucifixion of the nations will arise the true interpretation of the spirit of Christian liberty. For only when men are free do they think the thoughts of love and sympathy and helpfulness and comradeship. When once this high ideal is established it will stand. What shall be our part in this great work? Shall we choose the way to the lights through suffering?"

The afternoon session of the convention opened with a praise service, followed by a business session and roll call. Addresses will be given by the state president, Mrs. E. B. Richardson, and Chaplain H. E. Roundtree, D. M. N., and Rev. Hailin S. Tuttle.

CELEBRATED THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Gilman D. Trefethen of Rye Observe the Event.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilman D. Trefethen of Rye, on June 4th quietly celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary at their home on Wallis Road, together with their four children, three daughters and one son, this date being also the 15th wedding anniversary of their son Willard A. Trefethen and wife.

As the Golden Wedding is too rare an occasion to be passed unnoticed, the friends and relatives were invited to be present at a reception in celebration of the event. One friend who came to extend her congratulations was a lady of 86 years. Each guest was the recipient of a slice of wedding cake made by Mrs. Trefethen herself, an accomplishment for which she has long been known to be famous, as she has made the wedding cake for several people on the occasion of their marriage.

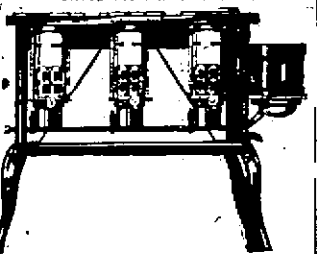

The wedding couple were the recipients of numerous gifts, including money (including gold pieces) beautiful flowers and confectionery. It may be remembered by many that the parents of both Mr. and Mrs. Trefethen each celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversaries, and also a sister of Mrs. Trefethen, Mrs. Homer P. Dickering of Malden, who with her husband, came to Rye and celebrated their 50th anniversary on June 29th, in 1916.

DEFEATS LAFAYETTE NINE

The second game between the Galahad Club of the Farrar school and the Lafayette school nine was played at the Lafayette play ground Wednesday afternoon, and resulted in a victory for the former, by a score of 15 to 10.

The following scored, Galahad club: Lizzio, Constantino, Coleman, J. J.

Cavertta, Davis 2, McPheters 3, Marcella 2, Gehman 2.
Lafayette-Eastman 2, Ward 2, Brown 2, Newell, Hersey, Clark.
The game for the championship will be held next week.

An autoist who ran short of gasoline between Findlay and Toledo, O., halted a newly married pair who were passing in another machine and asked for some gas. The question arose as to how to transfer the gasoline from one tank to the other, and this was settled by the bright suggestion of the bride that a syphon be made of dandelion stems. The plan worked beautifully.

On a recent voyage to Europe, Commander "Ned" Kalkbush of Haverhill, Penn., had his clothes off only once in 22 days. Commander Kalkbush, who ranks while in command of vessels as a captain, has been seeing that American troops get to France.

SOME PEOPLE THINK

that an upholstery department in a furniture store is only a dirty den occupied by a bewhiskered old fossil who tears the stuffing out of mattresses, shakes it once or twice and sews it in again. Not so, in this place at least. Our upholstery department is managed by a man who has had the best kind of training—years of practical experience. He knows his business and how best to serve you. Not only does his branch of this store renovate, make and clean mattresses. His work includes refinishing, patching, upholstering old and valuable furniture; relining baby carriages, making cushions for canoes, chairs and window seats and even sets of bases for baseball diamonds. And everything is clean!

If you have some particular and out of the ordinary upholstery problem, bring it here. If it can be done we can do it.

ROCHESTER DEFEATS LOCAL HIGH

The High school baseball team was defeated by the Rochester high at the play grounds on Wednesday afternoon by a score of 7 to 2. The locals had plenty of opportunity but could not come across with the hits when hits would mean runs. On one or two occasions with the bases full the side would be retired, in one inning with three men on two pop flies retired the side.

This makes the second defeat that the local boys have had this year at the hands of the Rochester boys.

The game was loosely played and resulted easily in a victory to Rochester. The features of the game was the playing of Gunnerson and the battery work of the visitors. For Portsmouth, Thomson and Kenneally excelled.

Rochester made two runs in the second inning, two in the fourth, one in the sixth, one in the seventh and one in the eighth, making a total of seven. Portsmouth secured the first run in the seventh and another in the ninth. Batteries for Rochester, Hayes and Horner; for Portsmouth, Smith, Kirkpatrick and Woods. Rochester secured nine hits and three errors. Portsmouth had seven hits and five errors.

Portsmouth High has only two more home games this season. The local school will meet Newburyport High Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the playgrounds. The final home game will be played in this city June 12, when Somersworth High will meet the local nine.

Y. M. C. A. WINS FROM MORLEY

The Y. M. C. A. defeated the Morley Union Company team on Wednesday evening in a fast and well played game in which the pitching of Eicke and the fine all round work of Jack Thompson contributed greatly.

Eicke pitched a great game holding the Morley's to three scattered hits, while he got excellent support from his team. Hammer for the Morley's pitched a good game allowing six hits three of which Thompson got and he got good support from Veeland at second and Bailey caught a good game.

The Y. M. C. A. scored in the opening inning McWilliam's flied to Veeland, Smith was safe when True-man dropped his fly, but he was forced at second on Davis's grounder to Coffey, Davis stole second and went to third on a bad over throw by Bailey and he scored on Thompson's single through second base, Whitte ending the inning with a fan.

Neither team scored again until the sixth when the Y. M. C. A. game across with two more runs. Thompson opened with his third single of the game and he was advanced by Whitte's single and scored on True-man's wild throw. Kirkpatrick singled, scoring Whitte, and Currier was out on an infield fly, Eicke flied to Veeland who doubled Kirkpatrick at second. The Morley made a good bid to tie the score in the sixth, scoring two runs. Sorrote who had replaced Goodrich in right, walked and Harrington was given a pass. Veeland was safe when McWilliam's let his grounder go through, but Sorrote in attempting to score on the play was thrown out by Clark at the plate. Harrington and Veeland moving up and the former scored on Bailey's long fly to Currier, and True-man singled scoring Veeland but he was forced at second on McCabe's hit to Thompson.

They made a good attempt in the seventh, Sullivan opening with a single and stealing second, but he was thrown out at third on Coffey's grounder to Thompson. Hammer fanned and Sorrote flied to Kirkpatrick. The score:

POPULAR PROVERBS IN CHINA

Many Sayings There Remarkably Like Those That Are Common in the West.

Some of the Chinese proverbs resemble ours, such as "Too many cooks spoil the soup" and "A man must heat his own dog" and paddle his own canoe." But it is not necessary to assume that by any process they were copied from English proverbs. Similar sayings arise in different countries largely because the human mind works everywhere in the same way and has much the same material to work on. Of proverbs that are distinctly Chinese the following may be taken, as samples: "Heaven is away up in the sky, but Soochow and Hangchow are here below." "Change your old nature or you will be up a tree." "When you are very angry do not go to law, and when you are very hungry do not make verses." "An avaricious heart is like a snake trying to swallow an elephant." "A boat straightens when it gets to a bridge." "A deaf priest can hear a lion cry." "After a typhoon there are pearls to gather." "A good drum does not need a heavy stick." "When young do not go to Canton." "No needle has a point at both ends." "A big chicken does not eat small rice." "The load does not carry the ass." "A stone lion does not fear the rain." "A crazy man hopes the heavens will fall, but a poor man hopes for a riot."

GREAT IDEA FAILED TO WORK

Might Have Been All Right But for Unfortunate Happening Inventor Could Not Foresee.

The poets and others, mainly others, have sung of the virtues and blessings of sleep. No class of men guards sleep as carefully as the doctors. "Some one, with all the wise theories of advertising, decided to mail his little 'call for business' to the medical men of Indianapolis. He spent a large sum getting up some real snappy stuff. He figured out all the psychology and personal appeal, with all of the big 'I' stuff he could, and then some. He laid plans to reap a harvest. He did not."

His good money went to the printer. "More" went to Uncle Sam for stamps. This wise ad writer put a special delivery stamp on each of his letters.

Result: The doctors of Indianapolis were awakened about 1 a. m. to sign for a bunch of printed matter. Every doctor goes says he tore up the booklet and with curses deposited the printed pieces in the waste-paper basket or elsewhere.

With groans and harsh words the medical men went back to bed. It was a great idea.—Indianapolis News.

Pleasure.

Of course we are entitled to it. And we should take great pains to secure the fullest measure of it. So much may be taken for granted; the important question is, when and where shall we find pleasure? Sir Walter Raleigh gave his opinion that brightness is much more amusing than pleasure. I suppose he meant that a man who is in love with his work will get more real "fun" out of it than was ever gathered in so-called "places of amusement." Many of our pleasures to little more for 49 than kill time. They do not kill care, for it comes back again the next morning. He is a wise man who more and more learns to get his amusement out of the serious work he is doing. Then if he takes an occasional hour or day, for sport or the "passing show," he will come back to his real task in life and his real entertainment. What finer art than that of having a good time in the thing which one has to do? Immensely wiser and more profoundly philosophical than the practice of planning for the good time afterward.—George Clarke Peck.

Cleaned Out.

"I want you to clean my shop window," said Mr. Jenkins to Muggins, the village chameleon window cleaner. "Do you think you can do it while I'm away for an hour or so?"

"Oh, yes; glad to do it," replied Muggins. And while Mr. Jenkins was out he set to work with a will and completed the job with a vengeance.

"Muggins," said Jenkins, entering the shop and glancing at the cleaner's work with approval, "you've done the job well. Why, there isn't a speck or scratch to be seen on the whole pane. Here's your money and an extra stilling."

"I'm glad you're satisfied with it," murmured Muggins, pocketing the money somewhat nervously.

"Of course I am. Why, I can hardly believe there is any glass there at all. It looks so clear."

"Well, there isn't," said Muggins, moving toward the door. "He and the ladder fell through the glass just after we started."—London Tit-Bits.

America's Severest Winter.

A letter from John Winter to Rev. Dr. Cotton Mather describes graphically the severest winter and deepest snow ever recorded in America: "It held the north half of the continent in its grip. In the Illinois country, in this winter of 1718 and 1717 the snow fell to a depth of six feet on the prairies and blazed so long that all wild animal life, such as the larger game—buffalo, elk, deer and antelope—died. The buffalo and antelope never crossed the Mississippi river, and these two species (peculiarly plains and prairie animals) never came back, but elk and deer and other large game did."

FOODS WITH CORN AS BASIS

Some Really Excellent Dishes That Are Popular in Different Parts of the World.

Maize was the chief aboriginal food of America and is still a favorite article of diet in Central America. "Simp" was adopted by the early colonists of New England from the Indians; it consisted, according to Roger Williams, of "Indian corn beaten and broiled and eaten hot or cold with milk or butter." "Hominy" was the name given to maize after it had been boiled with alkali, causing the skin of the grain to peel away and leave the soft inner portion.

"Succotash" originally meant an ear of maize, but was afterwards used to describe a mixture of corn and beans. "Tee cake" was taken over from the southern Indians. The Pueblo Indians ate great baked on stone stoves, calling it "paper bread." "Hulled corn or hominy, ground into a paste," says H. J. Spinden in his account of the Mexican dietary. "Turnishes dough for the tortillas or unleavened cakes that take the place of bread in Mexico. Although the ordinary tortilla is rather soggy, it is delicious when made thin. For a breakfast dish nothing can surpass the enchilaga, which is a tortilla rolled up cigar fashion with a little meat, cheese or chili pepper as a surprise in the center. This is broiled before the fire until it is crisp and crackling. Pinole is, properly speaking, a parched meal made from maize and other seeds. The word is applied to a variety of dishes such as stews of maize, meat and chili peppers."

HAVE MANY GOOD REMEDIES

Chinese Physicians by No Means All Ignorant of Fine Points of Their Profession.

Writing of a recent decree of the Chinese government, permitting autopsy on the human body, Millard's Review (Shanghai) says that it is only lately that Chinese doctors discovered that the bodies of Orientals had the same internal arrangement as those of Occidentals. They had been taught that the organs were arranged with the innards of a modern office building with the elevator shaft as the connecting medium. But it adds:

"It must be admitted, however, that the Chinese practitioners, through long experience and through the custom of handing down medical secrets from one generation to another, do have many excellent native remedies. One Chinese medical treatise indicates no less than 98 different types of pulse, and another form of treatment is that of puncturing the body with a needle. A chart of the human body contains 700 spots which are indicated as the places where it is safe to insert a needle without injuring a vital organ. Quinine as a medicine has long been known in China. Beller in the sanctity of the human body in relation to future life has up to the last few years prevented the use and development of surgery."

Play at Something.

Are you one of those who laugh at those who ride hobbies? Did you ever notice that a man doesn't amount to much who isn't a little batty over something outside of the way he makes a living.

Look around at the unusual men and women you know and see if all of them haven't sidelines in the way of work. These queries are due to a story of a big man who "clears his mind" every evening by driving a motorcar through the worst traffic in the world. He could just as well take easier routes, hire an expert chauffeur or not drive at all, but the trip makes him forget such little things as money and big operations.

Use every day some portions of your body other than those with which you make a living, either mind or muscle. Just because you're grown-up no reason why you should not play.—Toledo Blade.

Bluffing.

We all know to what desperate lengths some can be carried by their desire to be important or even to seem important. It is as if they felt that they could not endure making (this earthly) pilgrimage without attracting notice to themselves. Openly or covertly they will try to give their lives enhancement. They are pitiful when they resort to pretense and deceit. And yet even here there is a certain imaginative appeal, a longing to change drab colors into brighter shades, to do for themselves what the writers of fiction do for characters that entertain and charm and thrill.—Exchange.

He's Some Help.

Helle—Her husband is very good at figures, you know.
Deulah—Really?
"Oh, yes. He's in a bank."

"Think of that!"
"She always takes him to her knitting club."

"What can he do at a knitting club?"
"He counts the stitches so she can talk."

Marching Orders.

Patience—What's become of that young man who used to call on you?
Patience—You mean the one you didn't like?

"That's the one."
"Oh, he's gone to be a soldier."

"What's he know about being a soldier, I'd like to know?"
"Oh, him showed him how to march."

HAVE YOU A BAD BACK?

If You Have, the Statement of this Portsmouth Resident Will Interest You.

Does your back ache, night and day; hinder work; destroy your rest. Does it stab you through and through when you stoop or lift or bend? Then your kidneys may be weak. Often backache is the clue. Just to give you further proof, The kidney action may be wrong. If attention is not paid, More distress will soon appear. Headaches, dizzy spells and nerves, Uric acid and its ill. Make the burden worse and worse. Liniment, and plaster can't reach the inward cause at all; Help the kidneys—use the pills Portsmouth folks have tried and proved.

What they say you can believe. Read this Portsmouth man's account. See him, ask him, if you doubt. J. S. Plafsted, retired railroad engineer, 203 Thompson street, says: "From the work I did, my back became stiff and ached all the time. My kidneys were irregular in action and the kidney secretions were too frequent in passage. Doan's Kidney Pills corrected this trouble and I haven't had a sign of it in a long time." Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the game that Mr. Plafsted had. Foster-McMillan Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

PREPAREDNESS

Our Government offers to the citizen, upon entering upon a military career the maximum of $20,000 life insurance. Policies totaling millions of dollars have been submitted for issue.

The Foremost desire of every thinking man, and especially heads of families whose income is dependent upon their existence, must always be how to provide for future contingencies before they become certainties.

One of our Greatest Philanthropists said: "There are a million (more or less) widows in this country, in any number of degrees and each mother who owns a very considerable debt to that great institution—life insurance."

Massachusetts was the first state in the Union to grant a life insurance charter. The New England Mutual of Boston, in 1835. The oldest in America—it has passed through the numerous financial panics which have intervened, and is today STRONGER THAN EVER.

PROCLAMATION FOR WAR SAVINGS DAY

Gov. Keyes Sets June 28 as Day All Citizens Should Invest in War Savings
Stamps.

Whereas, the President of the United States has called the people to universal saving, and the materials and labor necessary for the support and equipment of our army and navy may be made available, and his set aside the period ending June 28 as a special time of enlistment in the great volunteer army of production and saving;

Now, therefore, in order that this state and its people may join with the other states in responding to the call of the President, I hereby proclaim Friday, June 28, as War Savings Day for the people of New Hampshire, and I urge that all patriotic citizens on or before that day pledge themselves to invest in War Savings Stamps during the year 1918 to the amount of their ability, upon pledge cards presented for signature by duly appointed agents of the United States treasury, who will conduct a canvass ending on June 28. I ask our citizens to assemble on this War Savings Day at patriotic meetings held in their respective communities, to signalize the completion of the work of obtaining pledges; and to show both by deed and by word that Americans at home present us with a front of opposition to the

WORN BRAKES

Nothing is more dangerous than brakes that do not work promptly—and worn brakes don't. When were your brakes relined last? Isn't it time you caused running with brakes that are not perfectly reliable?

We can quickly reline your brakes with the best brake material obtainable—and at very reasonable cost. Ask us about "brakes" NOW.

Do you know that our modern process of Oxygen Acetylene Welding fuses broken cylinders, crankshafts, transmission cases, frame members, housings, plows, tractor parts, stove parts, boiler parts, pumps, into a strong, durable, workable whole at a fraction of the cost of new parts? Our welding is not "stitching" the parts together—it's fusing them into a complete whole. Moderate charges.

world's enemy as do our brave men on the battlefield of France.

Given at the council chamber in Concord, this fourth day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and eighteen and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-second.

HENRY W. KEYES, Governor.
By His Excellency, the Governor,
with the advice of the Council,
EDWIN C. BRIAN,
Secretary of State.

"PERSHING'S CRUSADERS"
U. S. Government Official War Film at Shubert Theatre, Boston, Next Week, Twice Daily.

For a year the United States Government camera men have been busy getting the activities of our soldier and sailor boys registered on thousands of feet of motion-picture film. As a result of this work the people of New England will have the first opportunities at the Shubert Theatre, beginning next Monday, June 10th, and twice daily thereafter, to see what has been done by our boys up to date over here and over there.

"PERSHING'S CRUSADERS" is the title of this official government feature film of the war and it really constitutes a motion-picture history of our first year at war. A successful effort has been made to show how the Government has handled the gigantic task of preparation for war. The recruiting of our army, the building of huge cantonments, the clothing and feeding of our troops, the making of arms to equip them, the building of enormous shipyards and the rapidity with which ships are being built and launched.

You will see our boys in training, direct of aeroplanes in dizzying flight, our great floating fortresses on victory guard, our swift destroyers searching the sea for the German periscope.

The great part of the picture shows our boys—maybe your boys—in France. It follows them along the long road to the front. It shows the vast stores of munitions and supplies flowing like rivers through the quiet French villages up to the front line ditches. It depicts the first American field gun to throw a shell into the German trenches, the first American troops entering and settling down in a first-line trench, the first batch of German prisoners taken by our soldiers, the first baptism before a battle.

Secretary of War Baker is seen on his first tour of inspection in France, examining the great guns, the aeroplane squadrons and our troops then selves. General Pershing and staff accompany him in his visits to the camps of our "Crusaders."

It is a picture every mother, sister or sweetheart of a soldier should see. It is better than a letter from the boys over there, for at the Shubert Theatre next week you can see him actually at the grim business and the light-hearted play of war. In order that all may see the pictures, a special scale of prices—25c and 50c—at all performances is arranged.

It is just this kind of novelty that William Rock and Frances White promise theatregoers in the programme arranged for two weeks' limited engagement, which will take place at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, beginning next Monday, June 10th.

Their repertoire on this occasion will consist of selections from the eighty-six specialties, a resume of their work gleaned from their two years' season as leading artists of the Midway Theatre, New York.

Accompanied as they are, however, Miss White and Mr. Rock do not reply on their specialties alone to supply their own will be "Rock children." Another well-known entertainer, together with an orchestra of twenty-five selected singers and soloists from the New York City Club, one of the most unique musical organizations in the United States.

During the engagement Miss White will sing some of the famous songs that have greatly contributed to her success. Among them being "Allegretto," "Monkey in the Zoo," "Six Times Six" and "Guarantee." Mr. Rock in furnishing his share of gladness and fun to the occasion, aside from his original dancing numbers, will also include many clever impersonations.

All in all, our playgoers may prepare themselves for a big surprise in the programme that has been arranged by Miss White and Mr. Rock, containing as it does the songs and dances that have made them the most favored of all entertainers in New York.

STOP AND THINK.
If you're long on sob and worry, cut the stuff out in a hurry 'fore your belly gets hitched to some gawky, 'fore you ramble from your headings, mistaking what should have your feelings, 'fore you can't get down and give a sober think. Know you cannot change the chapter, that there'll be a lot of patter that you'd rather not have batted hence and yon, things he said without foundation, that you think will hurt your station, people not sincere hand you a line of con. But don't be too harsh with others, with your sisters and your brothers, don't expect that folks are perfect here below, stop and think, reflect, consider, so and so may be some kinder, may not mean one-half the thing that he says go. Then perhaps you've done some prancing, done some roasting and some cawing, maybe you've not always been just what you should, you have no doubt slipped some sneezers, broadsides in the neck and better—some reform at home would no doubt do some good.

THREE AUTOS ARE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Holmen's Garage Totally
Gutted by Flames; Fire
Dept. Hampered by Condition of Middle St.

Holmen's Garage on Union street, near Middle, was completely gutted by fire this morning which called the department out a few seconds after 11 a. m. in answer to an alarm from box 35. The all out signal was sounded at 11:32 a. m. Three automobiles in the garage at the time were destroyed as well as practically all of the equipment.

Up to the time of going to press the exact loss had not been determined although it will reach several thousand and it is understood that the loss was partly covered by insurance.

The fire is said to have originated from the explosion of an electric light bulb with which a mechanic was working around the engine of a Franklin car owned by Albert Hilop of Miller avenue. The bulb struck against the engine, exploding and ignited the gasoline in a flash.

Two hand extinguishers were used to good advantage and the flames were almost under control. A third extinguisher was used in the belief that it would wholly put out the fire, but instead, and it is thought that something was wrong with the chemical preparation, the flames spread and the whole garage caught fire.

Meanwhile a general alarm had been sounded and Engine 3, the chemical, hook and ladder and Hose 2 responded, but the department was handicapped by the fact that Middle street was closed to traffic and they had to go up Islington street, down Union to Madison street, making a roundabout way and taking much longer than the usual route up Middle street if that thoroughfare had been open. After reaching the scene, Engine 3 was again hampered by the inability of her pumps to work.

The firemen took out between 20 and 30 barrels of oil from the garage and the valuables in the safe in the office were also removed. The gasoline tanks underground were undamaged. The owners of the cars destroyed were a Franklin, Albert Hilop; a Maxwell, a Mr. Appleton, and a Regal, Mr. Schurman.

The building occupied as a garage was a one story wooden structure owned by John H. Suggen of Cass street. He was unable to as yet give any estimate as to the loss. The insurance on the building was small.

The loss on Mr. Hilop's car was estimated at $1200 and there was no insurance on it.

POLICE COURT

Henry Barga arrested in Dover for the local police on Wednesday was in the municipal court today charged with breaking and entering a room on State street and robbing a telephone money box. He admitted being guilty to the charge of larceny but denied that he did any breaking and entering. The court held him for the grand jury in the sum of $250. When placed under arrest in Dover Barga told the officers that he was formerly in the navy and deserted from the receiving ship at New York.

STOREN POST EXTENDS THANKS

At the regular meeting of Storen Post, No. 1, G. A. R. held on Wednesday evening, it was unanimously voted—that the thanks of the Post be extended to the Military and Naval organizations, to all of the Civic organizations; to all that contributed to the success of "Our Day," May 30th to those who, especially by their patriotic and unselfish efforts, contributed to our comfort, for use of their autos, our thanks, are entirely inadequate, but sincerely offered.

To our comrade the Right Marshal, Maj. David Ulrich, we are mindful of the great obligation we owe him, for the untiring efforts he made, much depended upon the great success of Memorial Day.

In the universal devotion of our citizens, one and all, the Post is appreciative of the patriotism as witnessed on the 30th, grateful thanks to all. We are also, not unmindful of our debt to the liberal courtesies extended by the local press.

Yours in G. A. R. & L.
HENRY S. PAUL,
Commander.

LOCAL BOY HAS ENTERED FRENCH ARMY

Bailey V. Emery at French
Officers' Artillery Training School.

The many friends of Bailey V. Emery, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Emery of Middle street, will be interested to learn that he has entered the artillery training school for French officers at Fontainebleau, France and congratulate him upon his appointment.

Mr. Emery was graduated from Portsmouth high school in 1912 and from Dartmouth College in 1915; he tried several times to enlist in both the army and navy in this country but was turned down for physical disability, specifically defective eyesight. He then joined an American ambulance unit and sailed with it Oct. 3, 1917, on the Blue Antrim, which has since been torpedoed.

Shortly after reaching the other side the ambulance unit was taken over by the United States government and placed of an army basis. The men were subjected to a rigorous physical examination and once again Mr. Emery was turned down. Not giving up hope, he immediately offered his services to the American Red Cross as an ambulance driver and was accepted. For six months he saw varied service as an ambulance driver, motor truck driver and also as chauffeur for several staff officers.

Having completed six months' service with the Red Cross in April, Mr. Emery put in an application for an appointment to the French officers' training school at Fontainebleau. He was later accepted for service in the French army and on May 9 entered the training school.
